MISSION OF BST

BST is a laboratory for creating communities of Christian hope, justice and reconciliation.

Our mission is fulfilled in partnership with the American Baptist Churches, USA and the Graduate Theological Union. We gladly welcome and actively recruit students from more than 22 other Christian traditions.

Our mission is supported by a faculty that is representative of the constituencies we serve, competent in scholarship, skilled in teaching, experienced in ministry, and dedicated to the work of the Christian church.

HISTORY OF BST

In 2021, Berkeley School of Theology (BST) will celebrate its 150th anniversary. As a charter member of the Graduate Theological Union (1962), BST was founded in 1871 and remains at the center of Baptist and ecumenical theological education in the far west of the United States. The seminary is affiliated denominationally with the American Baptist Churches in the United States (ABCUSA). Prominent American Baptist leaders in America include the founding father of Rhode Island, Roger Williams; businessman, John D. Rockefeller and educator, Laura Spelman Rockefeller; social gospel theologian, Walter Rauschenbusch; U.S. Presidents Warren Harding and Harry Truman; Civil Rights leader, Martin Luther King, Jr.; and U.S. Rep. Barbara Lee (BST Board member). Though steeped in the historic “free church” heritage, BST admits students from a variety of BST admits students from a variety of denominational and religious traditions here in the U.S. and around the world.

In the early 1840’s, while California was still a part of Mexico, the Baptist Home Missions Society (BHMS) sent its first mission-workers to the Bay Area with the specific mandate to inaugurate educational institutions. Those early dreams were waylaid until 1863 when the first educational convention of the new Baptist association was held in San Francisco. Berkeley School of Theology traces its lineage to this visionary spirit of BHMS that was also establishing Baptist educational institutions for men and women freed from slavery and Native Americans seeking education. Colleges like Moorehouse, Spelman, Ottawa, and Bacone College, along with Berkeley School of Theology, were all established by BHMS in the spirit of liberty and justice for all. Indeed, an early president of Berkeley School of Theology was one of four ministers to preach at Abraham Lincoln's funeral, while another Baptist educator would soon become the eighth president of UC Berkeley just down the road. The Sather Gates and land-mark Campanile (bell-tower) at the heart of the UC Berkeley campus speaks to Baptist philanthropy, leadership and commitment to higher education in Northern California and at Berkeley School of Theology.

Berkeley School of Theology was chartered in 1871 as California College. The pioneering and innovative spirit of its founders has guided it through a series of transformations and name changes throughout its 150-year history. As one of California's earliest colleges, the school was first located in Vacaville and then moved to Oakland in 1887. In 1912, California College relocated to Berkeley, changing its name to Berkeley Baptist Divinity School (BBDS). Three years later this school merged with the Pacific Coast Baptist Theological Seminary, which had begun instruction in 1890 at the First Baptist Church of Oakland and had moved to Berkeley in 1904. For the next fifty-three years (1915-1968), the school carried the Berkeley Baptist Divinity School name, even as it merged once again with California Baptist Theological Seminary (CBTS) in Southern California. CBTS had been founded in 1944 at Temple Baptist Church in Los Angeles, later moving to Covina in 1951. In 1968, the new two-campus institution was renamed American Baptist Seminary of the West. Not long thereafter, the Southern California CBTS faculty joined the faculty in Berkeley (1974) where, together, they could share in the resources of the Graduate Theological Union (GTU). In December of 2019, the Board of ABSW, after a ten-year process of study and deliberation, changed the name of the institution to Berkeley School of Theology, to reflect its expansive mission.

Today, as a member of the GTU, Berkeley School of Theology offers its students a myriad of resources through the largest partnership of seminaries and graduate schools in the United States. BST students may take advantage of the strength of its historic Baptist heritage as well as interdisciplinary religious thought, study, and practice through cross-registration at other GTU seminaries. In addition, BST students have access to one of the finest theological libraries in the world, an uncommonly large faculty of distinguished scholars, and the resources of the University of California, Berkeley. Through the GTU, students can pursue BST degrees as well as the Ph.D., Th.D., and M.A.

ABOUT BST

BST's programs manifest its vision and mission. The seminary offers a BA Equivalency in Spanish and English (recognized by the Association of Theological Schools (ATS)) a Master of Divinity (with the option of taking up to 50% of the course work in Korean; ATS accredited), a Masters in Community Leadership (ATS accredited), a 100% online Masters in Theological Studies (ATS accredited), and also participates with the GTU in offering a Master of Arts, and PhD degrees in cooperation with the eight member schools (all fully ATS and WASC accredited degrees), and its own Doctor of Ministry program (with English and Korean tracks; ATS accredited).

The BST academic programs have been created to train students in 4 skill sets and in 4 different tracks:

4 Tracks

Creative Church & Community

- ▶ People become involved in churches when they feel a sense of authentic community and spiritual connection. They need to feel a sense of belonging. In this track of the curriculum students will be equipped to create authentic, diverse communities by addressing topics such as organizational change, church renewal, conflict resolution, congregational and communal care, spiritually grounded and ethical leadership, and more.

Spirituality & Resilience

- ▶ The work of ministry is rewarding, but it's also difficult. Leaders need to know how to cultivate deep resources for their spiritual, emotional, and professional well-being. They also need to know how to equip communities with these same kinds of resources. In this track of the curriculum students will learn to draw on scripture, history, prayer, communal practices, pastoral care, trauma studies, communication skills, the arts, and other valuable resources to support environments where they can flourish—and thereby help others flourish as well.

Justice & Reconciliation

- ▶ Justice is love in action. Reconciliation is justice embodied. God's love inspires this work. In this track of the curriculum, students will grapple with the justice demands of the gospel, develop strategies for long-term, engaged justice work: (verb) eco-justice and sustainability studies; learn to articulate their own public theologies: incorporate insights from the rich histories of social justice movements; become familiar with restorative justice, and grow in their confidence to address, through intersectional analysis, contemporary issues of injustice in local, national, and global contexts.

Border Crossing & Bridge Building

- ▶ Social segregation is an insidious systemic problem that continues to cause deep and lasting conflict. As one of only a few multicultural theological schools in the United States, accredited by the Association of Theological Schools, BST is uniquely positioned to equip students in the border-crossing skills so desperately needed for healing work today. In this track of the curriculum students from diverse backgrounds will develop intercultural skills through praxis-oriented courses; self-directed, inventive projects; and innovative internship opportunities. Students will also gain valuable skills using digital resources for the common good, including podcasting, social media, and other emerging technologies.

Students also have access to certificate programs including: Arts & Religion, BA Equivalency; Buddhist Chaplaincy; Women's Studies in Religion, Black Church/Africana Studies, Asian/Oceanic Studies, Jewish Studies, Islamic Studies, Hindu Studies; Orthodox Christian Studies; Swedenborgian Studies; and Public Theology.

Core courses (and some electives) in the curriculum(s) are taught by BST faculty. Students are encouraged to take elective courses offered by the faculties of the seven additional GTU seminaries, eleven GTU centers, and UC Berkeley. All GTU students, including BST students, may also take courses at Holy Names University (including the HNU affiliate, the Sophia Center) and at Mills College. Experience in the context of ministry is an integral part of the core curriculums.

The BST student-body is comprised of both full-time and part-time students. Many commute from off-campus residences, and many maintain daytime employment while enrolled at the seminary. The seminary, therefore, schedules classes online, during evening hours as well as during the daytime. The curriculum likewise, is flexible to accommodate part-time and evening commuter students as well as resident and full-time and online students. Our student body is comprised of men and women who represent diversity in cultural and ethnic backgrounds, age, denominational affiliation and theological thought and practice.

BST Location and Facilities

The BST campus is located on the south side of the University of California campus in Berkeley, California. BST campus buildings house faculty and administrative offices, several classrooms, a student lounge and study area, a chapel, and student/faculty apartments. Across the University campus to the North (a twenty-minute walk) are located the GTU library and administrative offices, as well as campus buildings of several other GTU-related seminaries. The BST campus is handicapped-accessible.

Campus Visit

Applicants are strongly urged to arrange for a personal interview on campus. The selection of an educational institution is an important decision. A personal interview and tour of the campus is by far the best way for a prospective student both to evaluate BST and to demonstrate to the seminary his or her serious interest in the school. This visit can be scheduled with an email, telephone call, or letter to the Office of Admissions.

The Graduate Theological Union (GTU)

The GTU is an educational consortium, established for a two-fold purpose: to offer programs of study leading to graduate degrees in theology and to function as an instrument of collaboration and cooperation among its member schools, centers, affiliates, and institutes. Presently the GTU is comprised of six Protestant and two Roman Catholic seminaries and more than ten centers, institutes, and programs. BST is a founding member of the GTU and has been a fully participating school since the GTU was formed in 1962. BST shares resources, including a common registrar and library, with the GTU consortium.

The BST—GTU Connection

BST, like each seminary within the GTU, admits its own students, designs its own professional programs, and grants its own professional degrees. All cooperative programs within the consortium are developed and carried out through the Union. Through this cooperative arrangement, an BST student is eligible to register in virtually all courses offered by the participating seminaries, centers, institutes, and affiliates. The faculties of the various member schools constitute the faculty of the Graduate Theological Union consortium.

The GTU consortium offers PhD and MA programs as a collective. Persons interested in these programs should write to the Admissions Office of the GTU, 2400 Ridge Road, Berkeley, CA 94709, (510)649-2400 or go online to www.gtu.edu.

The BST—University of California Connection

The physical proximity of the University of California gives the students easy access to the UC resources available on an open exchange basis to students and faculty of the GTU consortium. In addition to the considerable variety of cultural events offered week by week through this distinguished university, complimentary library privileges are extended to students at BST and the other members of the consortium. In addition, with certain restrictions, degree students may cross-register into courses in the Graduate Division and in the College of Letters and Sciences of UC Berkeley. Such courses, while they appear on the BST transcript with the regular UC denotation, do not automatically fulfill unit requirements for BST degrees. Interested students are encouraged to work closely with their academic advisors to ensure course selections that both meet program goals and strengthen their educational experience. Inquire at the BST Registrar's Office for authorization and procedural details since pre-registration is required.

The BST—Holy Names University and Mills College Connection

Students may be able to enhance their BST/GTU education with classes taken at Holy Names University (including the HNU affiliate, the Sophia Center) and Mills College, both in Oakland, California. Interested students are encouraged to work closely with their academic advisors to ensure course selections that both meet program goals and strengthen their educational experience.

LIBRARY RESOURCES

The GTU has a common library which serves the needs of students and faculty of all participating schools, centers, institutes, and affiliates. The Flora Lamson Hewlett Library has absorbed and organized the library resources of its participating member schools, and now provides members of the GTU community ready access to more than 700,000 holdings in theology and religion, including 450,000 volumes, more than 1200 periodical subscriptions, and 292,000 microforms, audio visual materials, and a growing number of online resources. It is one of the largest and most diverse theological collections in the United States.

The Flora Lamson Hewlett Library, acclaimed for its architectural design, provides a light and pleasant study space for students and faculty. Art shows and other exhibits add to the beauty of the space and to the contemplative environment.

In addition to the resources of the Flora Lamson Hewlett Library, faculty and students of schools affiliated with the GTU are granted complimentary borrowing privileges at the libraries of the University of California. The UC library collection includes extensive holdings in theological and philosophical literature; and its four million books in addition to countless periodicals, documents, maps, recordings, newspapers, microfilms, and other materials make it the third largest academic library in the United States.

The MA student is required to affiliate with a member school, or a participating academic center or institute. The primary academic base for the MA is the school of affiliation, chosen according to study interests and/or denominational ties. Students select a specific academic field or Area of Study as the focus of their MA work. At present BST is receiving applications for the MA degree in biblical studies, biblical languages, historical studies, homiletics, liturgical studies, systematic theology, religion and psychology, and interreligious study.

The Common MA is a two-year degree program requiring a total of fourteen 3-unit academic courses plus six units of thesis work. Concurrent MDiv/MTS, MCL, or MA Degrees

Students may also opt to do the MDiv and the MTS, MCL or the Common MA degrees concurrently. Students who select this option are allowed to share one year of full-time course work (24 units) in common between the two degrees for a total of 102 units for the MDiv/MCL or MA degrees or 96 units for the MDiv/MTS degrees. This is the equivalent to at least four years of full-time course work (24 to 27 units per year), or a student may enroll on a part-time basis, thereby extending the length of time for completion of the concurrent degrees for a maximum of seven years. As with the concurrent MDiv/MTS, MCL, or MA degree, the particulars for this option must be worked out with the student's faculty advisor.

Doctor of Ministry Degree (DMin)

Definition

The Doctor of Ministry (DMin) degree is an interdisciplinary advanced degree designed to enhance the practice of ministry in urban multicultural settings. The DMin is a flexible non-resident program. Courses are taught in one-week intensives, typically offered in January and June. Additionally, students have access to the rich resources available throughout the academic year at BST and its partner institutions by semester and online.

Objectives

BST's DMin program centered in the Bay Area, utilizing the rich resources of the Bay Area, trains pastors and ministers, men and women, for leadership in the church or community ministries of the 21st century who are:

Rooted in Prophetic Preaching
Committed to and skilled in Urban Ministry
Equipped for Transformational Leadership

Requirements

The program requirements consist of the equivalence of two years of course work (eight 3-unit courses) plus the completion of a dissertation. The course and dissertation requirements are outlined below.

- ▶ 30 Units
- ▶ Core Courses (9 units)
 - ▶ Critical Interpretation & Project Development I & II
 - ▶ Leadership in Urban Environments
- ▶ Electives (15 units)
 - ▶ Emphasis = 12 units in one area
- ▶ Thesis Writing (6 units)

Each year a cohort of 10 to 12 students will be recruited. These students may take their course work as hybrids; three to five day intensives will be held at BST in late January and June/July followed by 14 weeks of online coursework. Or, they may opt to take their core requirements as hybrids and their electives through the Graduate Theological Union (GTU) in semester long courses. This program offers two cohort options: 1) English-speaking cohort and 2) Korean-speaking cohort. As of summer 2015 Doctor of Ministry students have become eligible for financial aid.

The program will culminate in the writing of a dissertation. The dissertation committee shall consist of one advisor and one at-large committee member to be selected by the student in consultation with his/her advisor. The dissertation proposal should be submitted by the end of the student's second year of matriculation. Normally, the dissertation work will be completed within a period of eighteen months. An oral defense of the dissertation will be required.

The DMin typically requires no less than three years or more than six years for completion.

ACADEMIC INFORMATION

Policies and Procedures

Printed information is available on the BST webpage and in the Registrar's Office regarding such matters as standards of satisfactory academic progress and course grading, substitution of core course requirements, grievance procedures, etc. This information is published in the BST Admissions, Registration and Academic Life Policies and Procedures Handbook, which is available online at www.BST.edu, or by requesting a copy from the Registrar.

Berkeley School of Theology informs students of the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974, as amended. This Act, with which the institution intends to comply fully, was designed to protect the privacy of education records, to establish the right of students to inspect and review their education records, and to provide guidelines for the correction of inaccurate or misleading data through informal and formal hearings. Students also have the right to file complaints with the Family Policy Compliance Office concerning alleged failures by the institution to comply with the Act.

Local policy explains in detail the procedures to be used by the institution for compliance with the provisions of the Act. Copies of the policy can be found in the Registrar's Office. The policy is also printed in the BST Admissions, Registration, and Academic Life Policies and Procedures Handbook.

Faculty Advisors

Each student who is enrolled in a degree program is assigned a faculty advisor. Faculty advisors assist students in making their way through the curricular requirements, in selecting courses that best fit students' needs and interests, and in clarifying academic policies and procedures. Regularly scheduled appointments are made by students with faculty advisors at designated times during orientation week just preceding the start of the fall semester, and again near the end of fall semester. Students are required to consult with their faculty advisor each semester before registering for courses. Other appointments, at mutually agreed upon times, may take place throughout the academic year.

ADMISSIONS

While BST has a formal relationship with the American Baptist Churches USA, the seminary encourages applicants from other Christian denominations and traditions. It is the policy of BST not to discriminate on the basis of sex, age, race, color, physical disability, sexual orientation, and/or national and ethnic origin in its educational programs, student activities, employment or admission policies, in the administration of its grant and loan programs, or in any other school-administered programs. This policy complies with requirements of the Internal Revenue Service Procedure 321-1, Title VI of the Civil Rights Act, and Title IX of the 1972 Educational Amendments as amended and enforced by the Department of Health & Human Services.

MTS Admissions Process

The Admissions Process for the MTS degree is similar to that of the MDiv and MCL degrees (described above) with the exception that it does not require a background check.

Transfer Students

Students from accredited theological schools who wish to become candidates for the MDiv, MCL or MTS degrees with advanced standing must meet the regular admission requirements. No grade less than B- may be transferred for credit. To receive an MDiv or MCL degree, a minimum of 28 units of work must be completed at BST.

For information on MA transfer credit, refer to the GTU MA Program Handbook available on the GTU website or by contacting the GTU admissions office: gtuadm@gtu.edu; Telephone: 510.649.2460 or 800.826.4488

Unclassified Students

There are two categories of unclassified students:

- a. Persons whose application for admission to an BST degree program is pending, having not been completed prior to the deadline for a semester's registration.
- b. Persons not enrolled in an BST degree program who are taking courses for audit or for credit under special circumstances, such as continuing education (non-CEU) or enrollment in a degree program from another school outside of GTU.

Continuing Education Units (CEUs)

The dean and faculty of BST determine which classes will be offered for CEU credit each year and the amount of credit to be given. Special rules apply. Contact the Registrar.

International Students

Applications from citizens of other countries are encouraged; however, prospective international students should be aware that extremely limited opportunities for employment and financial assistance are available to them and should thus arrange for financial support from their denominations or others in their home country and in the USA.

In addition to the regular admission requirements, international students who are not native speakers of English will be required to submit a minimum score of 550 written, 213 computer-based, or 79 internet-based on the TOEFL (Test of English as a Foreign Language).

International students seeking admission must submit all necessary materials for the school to issue an I-20 form. This includes a Certification of Finances form, other pertinent financial information, and dependent information (if applicable). After receiving an I-20 form, students are responsible for obtaining their own student visas to enter the United States and for compliance with all pertinent requirements of the US Immigration and Naturalization Service.

Students Eligible for VA Benefits

The BST Registrar is the certifying official for Veterans Benefits. Students with previous graduate level coursework/training in the program to be pursued will be evaluated upon enrollment and given appropriate credit. Evaluation will be based upon review of official academic transcripts. Credit allowed will be recorded in enrollment records, and the length of the program shortened proportionately. In addition, the student and the Department of Veterans Affairs shall be notified. (Note: all prior graduate level coursework and training not used to satisfy another degree will be evaluated.) Upon completion of the course of study a degree will be conferred. Students must maintain satisfactory academic progress as described in the Admissions, Registration, and Academic Life Policies and Procedures Handbook.

HOUSING

BST has campus housing in the form of 1, 2, and 3-bedroom apartments. Apartments are located on campus within walking distance of the local shopping district, University of California, GTU schools, and public transit. BST housing units are managed by an independent company; students who wish to live in housing must contact the management company directly. BST students can also inquire about student housing at sister GTU schools. All contact persons are listed on our website at <http://BST.edu/section/view/housing>.

Grades are issued, degrees conferred, and transcripts issued only after all accounts are settled. BST accepts e-check, check, money orders, and cash or credit card payments. Master-level degree students must enroll in minimally six units per semester to be eligible to apply for financial aid.

HEALTH INSURANCE

If you are enrolled for nine (9) or more credits in any one semester, you must provide proof of health insurance.

FINANCIAL AID

Berkeley School of Theology is committed to providing theological education to all students at the most reasonable cost possible. Sources of financial assistance to students include BST tuition scholarships, denominational grants, Government Guaranteed Student Loans, and on-campus work study jobs. BST also participates in the VA Yellow Ribbon Program. Domestic Students who want to apply for financial aid must complete the FASFA (Free Application for Federal Student Aid). The FASFA form may be submitted online by going to www.fafsa.ed.gov. BST school code is G01120.

Fall and Spring Terms Applications:

Students who apply for financial aid after April 15 will be awarded on a first come basis and as funds are available. Priority is given to new students who are enrolling for the first time in the seminary.

To be eligible for financial aid students must be enrolled at least half time, be in good standing and maintain a GPA of 2.5 or higher (master's level) or 3.0 or higher (doctoral level). Students placed on probation will be denied Government Guaranteed Student Loans until the probation has been removed. Students should refer to the Berkeley School of Theology Financial Aid Handbook for additional information regarding Financial Aid policies.

Summer Financial Aid:

Summer period is considered the trailer to the academic year. An application for summer aid does not constitute an-application for financial aid for the academic year starting in September. To apply for financial aid for fall (September - December), you must complete the appropriate Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) and the Domestic or International Student Financial Aid Application. Visit <http://www.BST.edu/wp-content/uploads/2016/07/Financial-Aid-Handbk-July.2016.pdf> for more information.

For eligibility for BST Summer aid, the following conditions apply:

The student must be enrolled in the MDiv, MCL, MTS, or DMin programs. For Common MA students: up to two (2) three (3.0) unit academic intersession or summer session courses may be counted toward the MA Program course requirements with approval of your advisor or the dean.

For Federal Direct Loans, you must be enrolled at least half-time (6.0 credits for BST MDiv, MCL and MTS degree student, 3.0 credits for the DMin students, and 6.0 for Common MA students) over the course of the summer session and you must complete a Summer Aid Application.

For BST Scholarship Aid you must be enrolled in at least one BST Summer Session course. There is no minimum enrollment requirement for scholarship aid eligibility.

International Applicants

Complete and return the International Student Financial Aid Application along with bank statements for the past three months and a copy of your US tax return if applicable on or before April 15. The application can be saved, completed electronically and emailed as an attachment to admissions@BST.edu.

Satisfactory Academic Progress

Students must be in good standing and maintain a GPA of 2.5 (masters) and 3.0 (doctoral) to receive financial assistance. Students who are placed on probation will be denied Government Guaranteed Student Loans until the probation has been removed. Students should refer to the Berkeley School of Theology Admissions, Registration, and Academic Life Policies and Procedures Handbook for additional information regarding Financial Aid policies.

BST Scholarships/Grants

Based on demonstrable financial need, Master's degree students are eligible to receive up to 45% of their tuition as financial aid when taking six (6) or more units per semester. Doctor of Ministry degree students are eligible to receive up to 45% of their tuition as financial aid when taking three (3) or more units per semester. Students are required to apply for Financial Aid through the BST Financial Aid Office. Courses taken by auditors and Unclassified students do not qualify for financial aid.

Seminarian Support Program

In addition to tuition aid grants, by working through the American Baptist Home Missions Societies in Valley Forge, PA, American Baptist students who have been members of an American Baptist church for a minimum of one year have the opportunity to make their own requests for direct scholarship aid from any member congregation or ABC organization.

The American Baptist Home Mission Societies can match funds raised by students on a dollar for dollar basis up to $1000 per student per year (which would provide a potential total of $2,000 per student in addition to the usual BST tuition grant). The exact amount can vary from year to year, based on the number of students who apply for SSP monies. Continuing ABC students who are carrying 9 to 12 units for the MDiv degree are eligible for these matching funds. New students beginning the MDiv program have an August 1 deadline for fall semester and a January 1 deadline for spring semester. Payments are sent directly to the seminaries to be credited to each student's account.

On Campus Work Study Jobs

Work-study jobs are another source of financial aid, and a limited number of positions are available on campus. For information regarding work-study positions, please contact the BST Business Office.

VA Yellow Ribbon Program

The Berkeley School of Theology will participate in the VA Yellow Ribbon Program during the 2020-2021 Academic Year. The seminary has agreed to provide a tuition scholarship of 3 qualifying veterans during the 2020-2021 Academic Year.

Students will be considered to receive the Yellow Ribbon Award on a first come first serve basis. Students who are eligible for the Yellow Ribbon program must submit a copy of their Certificate of Eligibility (COE) to the Office of the Vice President. The priority deadline is August 1. Students will receive notification from the Berkeley School of Theology if they are selected to receive the Yellow Ribbon Award.

Federal Direct Loans

If financial obligations exceed anticipated resources and tuition aid scholarships/ grants, students may fill out the proper forms obtained from the BST Admissions Office to apply for Federal loans. All such information is confidential.

The Berkeley School of Theology participates in the William D. Ford Federal Direct Loan program. Through the Direct Loan program, an eligible graduate student may borrow an Unsubsidized Stafford Loan and/or a Graduate PLUS Loan to help finance the cost of education, including the costs for books and supplies, room and board, transportation, and other expenses that are part of the official cost of attendance.

The Direct Loan Program offers several repayment plans that are designed to meet the different needs of individual borrowers. Generally, borrowers have 10 to 25 years to repay a loan, depending on the repayment plan that is chosen. A borrower will receive more detailed information about repayment options during the required student loan entrance and exit counseling sessions.

Unsubsidized Federal Direct Loan

A student is not required to demonstrate financial need to borrow a Direct Stafford Unsubsidized Loan. The annual loan limit, the maximum amount a student may borrow in a single academic year, is $20,500. The lifetime borrowing limit for a graduate student (inclusive of Stafford subsidized loans and Stafford loans borrowed at the undergraduate level) is $138,500.

The interest rate for a Direct Stafford Unsubsidized Loan disbursed on or after July 1, 2006 is fixed at 6.8%. Interest accrues (accumulates) on an unsubsidized loan from the time it is first paid out. The interest may be paid while the borrower is in school and during grace periods and deferment or forbearance periods, or the interest may accrue and be capitalized (that is, added to the principal amount of the loan). Choosing not to pay the interest as it accrues will increase the total amount a borrower will have to repay. Accrued interest is capitalized once the loan enters repayment. Repayment begins 6-months after a borrower graduates or otherwise drops below half-time enrollment.

An origination loan fee of 1% is deducted from the total amount of each Direct Stafford Unsubsidized Loan disbursement.

Federal Direct Graduate PLUS Loan

An additional loan provided under the Direct Loan Program is the Direct PLUS Loan for graduate and professional students. The terms and conditions include: a determination that the applicant does not have an adverse credit history and a fixed interest rate of 7.9%. An origination loan fee of 4% is deducted from the total amount of each loan disbursement. Before a student will be considered for a PLUS Loan, the Financial Aid Office must determine the student's maximum eligibility for Direct Unsubsidized Stafford Loans. The maximum PLUS Loan amount an eligible student can borrow is the cost of attendance minus any other financial assistance received.

The repayment period for a Direct PLUS Loan begins at the time the PLUS loan is fully disbursed, and the first payment is due within 60 days after the final disbursement. However, a borrower may defer repayment while enrolled at least half-time. For Direct PLUS Loans first disbursed on or after July 1, 2008, a borrower may also defer repayment for an additional six months after ceasing to be enrolled at least half-time.

General Information

All bills are due and payable at the time of registration. Payment plans are available upon approval by the Chief Financial Officer. All financial obligations must be met or arranged for prior to enrollment in the next semester. Grades are issued, degrees conferred, and transcripts issued only after all accounts are settled.

Students who answer God's call to the Christian ministry make a serious commitment of their time, talents and finances. The seminary shares the conviction of the Association of Theological Schools that the individual student must pull together many resources to cover the cost of seminary education: personal savings and assets, summer employment, part-time employment, scholarships from home churches and other organizations and family assistance (parents and spouse).
